Dear Comrade Mansev Balms,

Yours of 8.3.80 is to hand. Thanks for the same. I am very very glad to know that you have become the National General Secretary of Indian Youth Association in U.K. It further gladdened me to know that Indian youth in U.K. inspite of their all "difficulties" want to hold Martyrdom day of Sardar Bhagat Singh. It clearly shows that wherever our youth goes his heart is always with youth in India who are out to meet the challenge of the time.

As far as my health is concerned it is O.K. according to age. I am very glad to know that there is a addition to your family. Give my love to the new "Nellam" and Raju. I still remember Raju as he was then struggling to walk, as lovely Indian child in foreign land. My respects to my daughter "Breet". Say my respect to all the comrades there with respects.

The youth in India is also preparing to fight the coming election in a befitting manner. They are out to fight the old rubbish order which has forced our sons and daughters to leave our country and seek solace in foreign lands. I know the difference. I appreciate your efforts and venture. As for your demand and message, I am trying to send on. Hoping you will like it.

With revolutionary to all the Comrades

Message.

I am very glad to know that you are celebrating the "Bhagat Singh Day" that martyrdom was a turning point in our struggle for the liberation of the country. I think the people who hold it in their uppermost in their minds stand for economic liberation and stand for emancipation of mankind from economic slavery of one class from the other. Our strength lies in our numbers but it is only a strength when it is united. Unity and struggle is the only way to end the last form of slavery, the wage slavery. Further our strength lies in the knowledge of the system we live in. Hope, you will contribute your might to fight the system and create a classless society. Wish you all success.

INQLAAB ZINDAGI.

(With Revolutionary Greetings)
